Two Floats In Prospect For Parade

Sierra Madre may have two floats in the Tournament of Roses parade at Pasadena on New Year's day, if plans now under way materialize. Arrangements are said to be complete for the entry of a float by the volunteer fire department and the commerce and other civic bodies are considering the advisability of entering a second float.

Since the firemen entered their float in the Monrovia day parade last spring, they have been planning to take one to Pasadena with which they expect to carry off a prize. The treasurer has been saving his pennies for some months and it is understood that the firemen's organization is now in a position to finance their entry with a little or no help from outside. The men of the department and their wives will do work on the float under the direction of an expert in floral design.

The chamber of commerce entry not yet been developed to the point, but at the meeting Monday night the opinion was expressed by several present that a float would be possible and should be a representative.

Observations

(By G. B. M.)

CURRENT STYLES IN DRESS AND GRAMMAR

Current styles may have an influence in correcting loose habits of speech. Two city business men along the street. Her niece is good. It's not show your good. It's the reply. "Don't say 'knees is,' say, 'knees are!'"

OASTLER IS GETTING HIS HAT READY

Jesse R. Oastler of Pasadena was calling on Sierra Madre friends in Sierra Madre the other day. He tells me he has been "looking over" the political situation, and I am sure he sees more things than do many people who have two more eyes than he has. Mr. Oastler has about made up his mind to run for congress again. He believes there will be so many candidates in the field he will stand a pretty good chance of landing the republican nomination. He has been living on South Marengo avenue, Pasadena, several months.

WHAT A FEAST IS GOING TO BE MINE

If I shuffle off this mortal coil in the near future I think it will be from eating too many pumpkin pies and the fault is going to be that of my next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Rikeman. They produced in their garden that mammoth sweet pumpkin which has adorned the News office window the past week. It weighs 44 pounds and so far no one has responded to the challenge to bring in a bigger one. They must have known something of my appetite for pumpkin pies, for they said I could have it after the world had had a chance to see what Live Oak avenue soil could produce.

W. E. Deutsch and family of 27 West Laurel avenue removed to Redondo Beach last week. Mr. Deutsch was a Sierra Madre pioneer, having grown up in the cigar making business with his father, the late Emil Deutsch. They have owned property in Redondo Beach for many years.

Local Chamber of Commerce Moves

The chamber of commerce will move the last of the week from its present location to the room just north of Dr. John E. Woehler's dental office. This will give the chamber a much larger room in which to hold meetings and to transact its other necessary business. The room which has been occupied by the organization for the past four years will be occupied by the Frank Meline company.

Legion Auxilliary To Collect Jelly

Each member of the American Legion Auxilliary is donating two glasses of jelly to be distributed at Sawtelle by the chairman of the relief committee, Mrs. R. W. Stewart.

This is not a matter for the auxilliary alone, as every one is interested in the welfare of the soldiers. Therefore, the auxilliary invites the Sierra Madre public to help contribute the jelly and in this manner show their appreciation. These articles are to be left with Mrs. Olsen at the shoe store.

Grand Lodge Report Given By Ashmore

Irving Mitchell, in whose honor a meeting was being held by the Sierra Madre Masonic lodge Tuesday night, was unable to be present because of illness. Just before the meeting Mrs. Mitchell called D. C. Ashmore, master of the lodge, and told him that Mr. Mitchell had been in bed all day and would not be able to be present. In spite of the fact that the guest of honor was missing, those present had a very enjoyable evening. The entertainment committee had excellent refreshments prepared and Mr. Ashmore gave an interesting report of the proceedings of Grand Lodge.

Mr. Ashmore reported the largest attendance on record at a California Grand Lodge, there being 1,700 delegates to represent the 116,000 Masons of California. Thirty new lodges were formed during the year, and about 6,000 members added to the rolls.

Grand Master David J. Reese travelled 40,000 miles during the year in visiting the lodges of the jurisdiction, which included a visit to the Hawaiian Island lodges. No preceding grand master came closer to the hearts of the members. It will cause regret to his many Sierra Madre friends to learn that impaired health has made necessary a rest in a Santa Barbara sanitarium.

One of the most important pieces of constructive work in connection with the grand lodge session was approval of the report of the educational committee which has been working during the past year. A program of work among the lodges has been developed which is expected to take five or more years to consummate, and an annual appropriation of $10,000 was made for the purpose. Mr. Ashmore reported the continuance of Past Master George B. Morgridge as one of the grand lodge committee of twelve members having this program in charge.

The Sierra Madre Masonic lodge will hold its regular stated meeting at the Masonic Temple next Tuesday night.

Frank Meline to Open New Office Here

The Frank Meline company will open offices in Sierra Madre on Nov. 1, according to an announcement made the latter part of the week by William J. Colligan, who is in charge of the Sierra Madre activities of the company. Mrs. Elizabeth Dingman will have charge of the office, which will be in the room now occupied by the chamber of commerce.

The Meline company has the Vogel tract on East Grand View, known as the Valley Vista Park tract, which is attracting considerable notice from the real estate buying public. The company also has a large number of local houses, ranches and lots listed along with other real estate buys from all over Southern California.

About 75 persons gathered to enjoy the social given by the Congregational Sunday school last Friday night. A pleasing program was given by pupils of the junior department, the big feature being a playlet directed by Mrs. A. M. Croxson. This is the first of a series of similar affairs. Dainty refreshments were served.

Miss H. H. Larjar is building a new home at 501 N. Baldwin.

Legion to Have Gala Celebration

At a special meeting of the Legion on Oct. 22, Commander Arthur Evans, chairman of the Armistice Day dance committee, reported that plans for the biggest dance of the organization are rapidly nearing completion. Kenneth Cochran's orchestra has been engaged for the evening, refreshments arranged for by the auxilliary, and the committee has under consideration attractive and fun making favors. With the auxilliary and Legion cooperating a gala night is assured. Tickets may be secured from any member of the auxilliary and the Legion or at Hartman's drug store.

Harvey Steinberger reported progress by the committee in arranging for the public exercises on the morning of Armistice Day in the park. The detailed program when completed will be announced.

YOUTH DIES SATURDAY AS RESULT OF BOIL

Lee Wilkerson, 19 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilkerson, 86 Esperanza, died at his home early Sunday morning, after an illness of about a month. He had been bothered with a boil on his neck for some time, which so decreased his vitality that it caused his death. He was taken to a Los Angeles hospital about ten days ago, but it was impossible to give him relief.

Leo Wilkerson came to Sierra Madre only a short time ago with his parents from Dodge City, Kansas. He was a member of the order of DeMolay and was buried with DeMolay honors. Funeral services were held from the Grand chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Fred Staff. Burial was in Mountain View cemetery.

Eastern Star Election Monday

The Sierra Madre chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold its annual meeting and election of officers next Monday night at the Masonic temple. The meeting will be preceded by a 6:30 o'clock dinner for the members of the order. Mrs. Blanche I. Musker, matron of the local chapter, will give a report of the Grand Chapter meeting which she attended last week. Reservations for the dinner should be telephoned to Mrs. Convers L. Twycross not later than Saturday night.

John G. Cox of Los Angeles spent Thursday in Sierra Madre visiting his father, Frank E. Cox, and family.

Prepare for Red Cross Roll Call

"Get ready for the Red Cross roll call," says Robert Mitchell, local chairman of the association. "The President of the United States is also president of the American Red Cross. He has written a letter calling attention to the approaching roll call and urging every one to be a member of this great humanitarian organization. His glowing words are an inspiration. Through the courtesy of the Southern California Edison Company a copy of this letter has been sent to all of its consumers in Sierra Madre, with- out expense to the local chapter. It would be impossible to set forth in more simple or emphatic words our obligation to support this great agency of mercy."

The Sierra Madre chapter has set its goal at 1,000 members with a budget of $1500. General membership costs $1.00; contributing membership, $5.00, and sustaining membership, $10.00. Fifty-cent of each membership goes to headquarters for maintenance of the fund for national purposes, and to take care of the sufferers in time of great disaster. The balance remains at home and is spent in our own community for the alleviation of suffering and distress. The generous support of the people of Sierra Madre has always been extended to the Red Cross, and this year the need is just as great as ever. Mr. Mitchell, director of the roll call, wants to enlist every man and woman under the banner of the Red Cross and he wants 50 subscriptions of $10.00 and 50 at $5.00 to maintain the prestige of Sierra Madre. Headquarters will be maintained in the Sierra Madre Furniture store, and the drive will begin on Armistice Day, Nov. 11. "Let everybody contribute at least $1.00 and those who can become contributing and sustaining members," says Mr. Mitchell.

To Feature Red Cross Roll Call

The Sierra Madre News will publish a Red Cross feature edition next week, in honor of the Red Cross Roll call, which will start with Armistice day and end with Thanksgiving. The News will contain a number of interesting and unusual features next week which will make it a paper well worth watching for. Extra copies may be ordered in advance by calling Black 42.

Mrs. C. A. Greese entertained at luncheon on Tuesday several ladies of the Woman's Club sewing class. The guests were Mes. Woodson F. Jones, R. M. Finlayson and Parmelee.

Yerxa Sees Art Center In Old Paris

Cabot A. Yerxa seems to be enjoying himself in Paris, where he is making a protracted stay. Another of his highly interesting letters is presented this week:

In the center of Paris near the river Seine, runs a short crooked street. It is narrow. The buildings are old and do not conform to a line. Some lean over the sidewalk as though anxious to observe the happenings below. Some lean back as though trying to admit a little sunlight to a street forever resting in semi-darkness. The sidewalk is in some places wide enough for two or three persons to walk abreast. In others one must walk alone.

Small shops line the street French fashion. Although the street is but a block long, nearly all kinds of business are represented. In Paris it is customary to purchase all needs in the neighborhood. So here you can buy milk, bread, books, groceries, drugs, jewelry, fish, beef, frogs, or horse meat, and all the thousand other things people use in cities.

Also one may dine with art students for five francs or pay more and get better food and music. Here, too, are coffee shops where people stand drinking coffee out of glasses or chocolate from cups, and eating French pastries. There are French style bars where all drinks from beer to fancy mixtures in tall glasses can be had for small money. Next door may be a book store. Perhaps a laundry where all work is done by hand and ironing is a science. Wine shops filled with rows of barrels and shelves stacked with bottles of many different shapes. Wood stores having among other kinds of fuel, small sticks and twigs tied into bundles no larger than a handful of cigars. (In France nothing is wasted.) Tailor shops and dressmakers look much the same as ours. The milliners' shops have smart hats of individual design for women and sell at a mere fraction of the prices in the U. S. A.

Family Shops

These shops are all run by one man and his wife, as is the custom here. The French are satisfied with less business and less income than are commercial people like the Americans. For instance, among other small merchants is a man whose entire stock is corks for bottles, and a few brushes. All day he sits in the window picking over corks. I never see him taking in much money and if he makes a dollar a day he is lucky. But this man is not only satisfied, he is happy.

This street is in the center of the Latin Quarter with the Mont Parnasse, Rue de la Grand Chaumiere, and Place de Saint Michael

West Mira Monte Open to Public

West Mira Monte was opened to the traveling public the first of the week, with new rock macadam paving and sidewalks. This improvement changes West Mira Monte from a rutty country road to a well ordered street which is equal to almost any in the city. The sidewalks now make it possible to walk on concrete from the corner of Auburn and Mira Monte to the corner of Live Oak and Baldwin, which is the longest continuous sidewalk in Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Walter M. Callahan and a party of friends from Los Angeles left Friday morning for a four-day camping trip in Red Rock canyon. They will drive to the Petrified forest on their return.

Several automobile loads of the teachers of the Congregational Sunday school visited the teacher training class of the Community church of Arcadia Thursday night.

close by. Queer little courts and passage ways open from it, in which people live. Or other small business may in them find a home, such as buyers of old iron, menders of umbrellas, and menders of wooden shoes or leather ones.

The people who live on the street go about in slippers and without hats. They know each other and are known in the shops. These people carry their purchases unwrapped, or in pitchers or on plates they take with them from home. The bread in France is made into loaves three and four feet long. Often you see people coming along eating on one end of a loaf that will last a week.

Where Art Thrives

Half way down this street on the left hand side, is a dark, arched passage. Entering this you emerge into a small cobblestone courtyard. Leaving this through another passage you find yourself in one of the oldest schools in Paris. Hundreds of paintings done by former students adorn the walls. Some date 60 and more years ago. It is littered all about with the various paraphernalia found in artists' studios, such as statues, model stands, parts of costumes, stools, easels, cartoons, drawings, clay models of statues, drawing boards, canvases, brushes, and partly completed work of sculptors.

On the floor are torn drawings, bits of charcoal, chalk, splashes of paint, cigarette stubs, pieces of letters with foreign stamps, drying lumps of clay, white scraps of plaster of paris, and various other things, but never any money.

The students come from all over the world. At present the men come from Japan, England, Turkey, Sweden, Spain, Austria, South America, Arabia, Roumania, Australia, Switzerland, Palestine, Italy, Algeria, Russia, Bulgaria, Africa, Ireland, Germany, Hayti, China, North America, France, and Honolulu.

With and Without Humor

It is interesting to note the different characteristics of men from such widely different countries. For instance some men have never developed a sense of humor.

Into the studio one morning walked X, wearing a brand new derby hat. He removed this elegant head piece with great care and wiped it carefully with his handkerchief, looking at it meanwhile with the same fond love and admiration that a mother bestows upon her first baby. X glanced at all the coat hooks along the wall and selected the end one, away from all the faded top gear of other students. In this he made a fatal error. The end hook is close to the sculptors.

This man X does not look like an artist at all. He is full faced and stout. His appearance is that of a physician or country banker. Gazing once more in pride of ownership at his new derby on the end hook, X settled down in his dignified way and went to painting.

The studio is a long room with five or six models sometimes posing at the same time. The sculptors work at one end and the painters in the middle. The sculptors have a cruel sense of humor. Five only were working that morning, but five was enough. A (Continued on Page Seven)

Large Crowd Witnesses Dedication

A large crowd of both Catholics and non-Catholics were present at both services held at the St. Rita's church which was dedicated Sunday. The Rt. Rev. Joseph Cantwell, Bishop of Los Angeles, was present and officiated at the ceremonies of dedication in the morning. Father O'Connell of St. Phillip's church, D. O'Connell preached the dedication sermon.

In the evening the Very Rev. Father Eugene Creagan, Provincial of the Passionist Order, erected the stations of the Cross. Preceding this ceremony, Father Creagan gave an explanation of this rite for the benefit of non-Catholics, showing how it taught the various lessons in Christianity which are held in common by all denominations.

The officials of the church were assisted in the services by the school choir, which rendered the responses in a very pleasing manner and which caused considerable comment among those present.

Forms New Law Firm in Community

The law firm of Mitchell and Rodden makes its bow to the public this week. Robert Mitchell, the senior member of the firm, needs no introduction. He has been a resident of Sierra Madre since 1916, was president of board of trustees for six years, and is one of our most active citizens in all matters pertaining to the civic and social welfare of the community. He moved his office here five years ago. Prior to that time he practiced law in Los Angeles in partnership with Leonard B. Slosson, the firm of Slosson & Mitchell being one of the most active and prominent ones of the big city. Although his professional duties keep him reasonably busy, Mitchell finds time to act as president of the Sierra Chamber of Commerce; director of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley, chairman of the Sierra Madre Chapter of the American Red Cross, director of the Pasadena council, Boy Scouts of America, president of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis association, and as one of the directors of the California State Tuberculosis association.

Edward J. Rodden, the other member of the firm, is a new arrival. He is a native of Wisconsin. He resided in Chicago for a number of years, where he was connected with the C. & N. W. railway and the Chicago Telephone company. He has resided in Los Angeles for some 22 years, and for a long time was a member of the claim division of the department of public service of that city. Before engaging in the general practice of law, Mr. Rodden was deputy prosecuting attorney of the City of Los Angeles. He is married and has one child, a daughter of 14. Mr. and Mrs. Rodden have fallen in love with Sierra Madre and are making arrangements to move up here as soon as they dispose of their city residence.

Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Rodden are both graduates of the College of Law of the University of Southern California, and are friends of long standing. It is expected that they will form a strong combination and will give the people of Sierra Madre an opportunity to carry out the "Trade at Home" idea in law as well as in mercantile lines.

Mrs. Hortense Hill entertained the following ladies at her home, 251 South Baldwin, Thursday: Mrs. J. C. Dickson, Mrs. L. M. Rice, Mrs. George Humphries, Mrs. Mary Pool, Mrs. Vora Costello, Mrs. W. B. Telford, Mrs. Ellen Bandy, and Mrs. C. J. Howison.

Dr. D. N. Alcorn, who has been in poor health for some time, will be around town Wednesday. (Continued on Page Seven)

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO

(Sierra Madre Vista)

Miss Fannie Hawks has sent us a large bouquet of chrysanthemums of many styles and shades.

The ladies interested in temperance work in Sierra Madre are all invited to meet with Mrs. Twy-cross next Thursday afternoon.

The school house has been designated as the polling place for the election one week from next Tuesday.

Services of the Congregational church will be as usual tomorrow except that the evening service will be at 7 o'clock. Young people's meeting at 6:30.

Mrs. Fletcher has moved into the Ocean View House, where she will reside temporarily until she makes a selection of a location.

NINETEEN YEARS AGO

The ladies of the Episcopal church are busy preparing for their annual bazaar.

Roth and Seeley have sold a lot in the Robinson tract to L. B. Haskell of Long Beach.

The first rain of the season has arrived and laid the dust.

S. E. Rhodes is back on the bus again.

L. Dietz and family are living temporarily in the Abbot cottage on Ramona avenue.

W. E. Bechtelheimer has been appointed agent for Adams, Turner and Stevens Undertaking company.

The Sierra Madre basketball team defeated the Pasadena High school team Saturday by a score of 28 to 10. The game was played on the Pasadena grounds.

S. R. G. Twyross has sold Miss Marvin's cottage on Auburn to A. S. Mead.

A. N. Adams of Los Angeles is putting up two new houses on Lima street.

Prof. and Mrs. John Hart entertained a few invited guests at supper Tuesday night.

On Monday morning the new post office went into commission. Postmaster Gregory is smiling.

Miss Rossiter of San Francisco is visiting with her cousin, Mrs. T. M. Webster.

Sierra Madre now has 200 homes, two hotels, four boarding houses, 22 tent houses, one school house, one library, two churches, seven stores, three packing houses and five offices.

TEN YEARS AGO

Eliot Rhodes is spending his Hallowe'en with his old friends in Bell.

Miss Mournie Reagan of Los Angeles entertained with a dinner party, complimentary to Charles Schwartz of Sierra Madre. The affair was in honor of his 22nd birthday anniversary.

The organization of the Sierra Madre Athletic club is practically complete, with a charter membership of 50 and unbounded enthusiasm.

The Merchants' association will hold a Thanksgiving dance at the Woman's Club house, Thursday, Nov. 25.

There is a fine prospect for an unusually big exhibit at the annual chrysanthemum fete to be held next Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tasker Webster entertained with a Five Hundred party on Friday evening.

Mrs. J. N. Hawks entertained at dinner Wednesday after a delightful afternoon spent at tennis. The guests were Miss Edith Blumer, Mr. Walker and Randolph Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lawless entertained a party of friends at the opening dance of the San Gabriel Country club.

The members of the Dickens Fellowship were entertained Wednesday by Mrs. C. H. Baker of Oak Knoll.

Mrs. J. G. Blumer entertained the Ancient Priscillas on Tuesday at her home.

Boy Scouts to Meet Tonight

Troops One and Two of the Sierra Madre Scouts will meet again this (Friday) evening to perfect the organization for the coming year, under the leadership of Scoutmasters Arthur Evans and Norman Jensen. Each boy is requested to bring his registration fee of 50 cents so that certificates may be obtained at once. Meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 at the Park house.

New Victrola Shown Here On Monday

The new Orthophonic Victrola has arrived in Sierra Madre and will be played in public for the first time on Monday, according to Woodson F. Jones, local agent for the new machine. Mr. Jones and his assistant, Tom Schwartz, have given the new Victrola a private tryout and pronounce it even better than he had anticipated. The new machine has a much greater tone range than any previous talking machine made. The low bass notes which were noticeably lacking in other machines, are very much in evidence, and it is claimed that every tone which can be detected by the human ear can be recorded by the new process.

An added advantage to the new machine is that it will not be necessary for those who play it to junk their old records, for it reproduces the old tunes in a way that makes it hard to realize that they are the same records that were played on the old machines.

Aside from the added tone quality, which of course is the most important feature, the new Orthophonic Victrola has a number of mechanical improvements which are unique. The motor is automatically stopped when a piece is finished and no adjustments are necessary to make it stop at the proper place. The cabinets are also well designed in the style of period cabinets. The volume is said to be sufficient for dancing.

Mrs. N. Madge Long has been appointed district deputy of the Order of the Eastern Star, according to announcement made this week. She was matron of Sierra Madre chapter for two successive years and has served as marshal during the present year. Her husband is a past patron of Rose Croix Chapter, Los Angeles.

ford Thompson, will preside at the punch bowl. Misses Muriel Tarr and Virginia Jones will be hostesses in the card room. Music will be by Prior's orchestra. Six prizes will be awarded, one to each woman and man featuring the best costume; the most original costume; the most grotesque costume. Careful attention has been given to the most minute details, everything being planned in keeping with the occasion. This promises to be one of the club's most outstanding autumn affairs.

Problems of Chamber are Discussed

The chamber of commerce will probably have two classes of memberships in the future as a result of the meeting held Monday night in the Park house. After considerable discussion a motion was passed to the effect that it was the sense of the meeting that there should be two classes of memberships, one paying a larger due than the other. The majority of those who spoke on the subject gave it as their opinion that the present dues were too high for the average property owner in Sierra Madre and that $10 would be much more easily collected.
The matter was referred to the directors, who, under the constitution of the organization, have the power to set the dues.

The meeting was arranged to discuss the problem of financing the organization and notices were sent out to all the membership.
There were 33 persons present at the meeting almost all of whom expressed their wish to see the organization well financed and in a position to carry on its activities. Secretary W. C. Gruit read a list of the things that had been accomplished through the efforts or with the assistance of the chamber of commerce during the past two or three years. He also reported that there were now 233 members carried on the roll of the organization and that more than 80 of these were a year behind in their dues.

Authors Guests
in Sierra Madre

Harold D. Carew, literary editor of the Pasadena Star-Neks, and Mrs. Carew of 449 Mariposa avenue, entertained at an informal dinner at their home on Friday evening of last week, Montague Glass, author of "Potash and Perlmuter," and other famous stories, and Mrs. Glass; Earl Derr Biggers, author of "The Seven Keys to Baldpate," and Mrs. Biggers, and Jules Goodman of New York, noted playwright and author of "The Trap" and other dramatic successes.

Mr. and Mrs. Glass recently returned to Pasadena after a year
spent in England and France, while Mr. and Mrs. Biggers arrived several days ago from Massachusetts, where they spent the summer. Mr. Goodman came to the coast last week to collaborate with Mr. Glass in the writing of a new play.

On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Carew entertained another group of friends at a literary tea. Those present were Miss Hildegard Flanner, the poet; Mr. and Mrs. Charles L.

Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Milbank
Johnson, Professor Franklin
Thomas of California Institute of Technology, and Mrs. Thomas; Professor Ralph J. Batchelder of the University of Southern California, and Mrs. Batchelder, and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Condit, all of Pasadena; Miss Ruth Klem-me and Dr. Gilbert S. Bovard of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar
B. Henderson and Miss Frances Henderson of Long Beach.

Mary T. Green

Mrs. Mary T. Green, 60 years old, died Sunday night at her home, 36 E. Central, after a short illness. Funeral services were held Thursday from St. Rita's church.
Burial was in Calvary cemetery.
Mrs. Green had lived in Sierra Madre about a year.

J. E. Dennis is building a new two-room addition to his home in the Canyon.

Mrs. Frank E. Cox and daughter Dorothea left Thursday for a three-week visit with relatives in San Diego.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST

The Ole Hanson Building company is erecting another house
on the Keys tract.

Miss Alice Stanley is expected home from a three months visit in the East, on Saturday.

Miss Josephine Schwick is building an addition to her home at 67 W. Laurel.

Charles W. Collins has just been made vice president and Southern California manager for the National Mortgage company with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Anderson entertained a party of friends at their home, 541 W. Montecito, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester L'Ecluse of San Diego spent Wednesday
in Sierra Madre visiting Mr.
L'Ecluse's sister, Mrs. Frank E.
Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Collins returned Saturday from San Diego, where they went for their wedding trip.

School Cafeteria to Offer 5c Dishes

The following menu will be served at the school lunch room
next week.

Monday, vegetable soup; scalloped potatoes.

Tuesday, spaghetti with tomato sauce; string beans.

Wednesday, cream of tomato soup; baked beans.

Thursday, beef stew with vegetables.

Friday, vegetable soup; macaroni and cheese.

Each article is five cents, except the beef stew on Thursday, which will be ten cents. Milk will be served at noon if there is a demand. Inasmuch as the patronage is uncertain, preparations will be made Monday to serve not more than 60, but the supply will be increased if the patronage
warrants it.—(Mrs. Gruit.)

SCHWARTZ RESIGNS

Tom Schwartz has resigned at fire guard for the city of Sierra Madre and has become associated with Woodson F. Jones in the selling of Victrolas and radios. Mr.
Jones will add a large stock of both radios and Victrolas at once.

MISSOURIANS TO HOLD PICNIC AT SYCAMORE

The Missouri State society of Southern California will hold its last picnic rally for the year in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, Saturday, October 31st. All the Show-Me folks are wanted and will have a jolly day with old friends. The program will follow the basket dinner hour and the county registers will be open all day. President Sam Seelman will be in charge.

WHY COME TO CHURCH?

(Hemet News)

A blind girl, Ida M. Sears of Milton, Mass., has won the prize offered by the Boston Federation of Churches for an essay on "Why Come to Church." Miss Sears expressed her reasons for church-going in a fashion that we recommend to all church-goers:

"Why come to church? Because I need its ministrations; for it stands for the invisible things, the eternal realities, as opposed to the world of time and sense. I need to be reminded of my relations and duties to God and man, and to Jesus Christ, the great Exemplar. I come to find food for my soul and rest for my mind and body; for human fellowship and sympathy; where there is that love for one another which is the test of true discipleship. I come because I love the church and all it stands for. Why come to church? Because the church needs to sustain and carry on public worship, its various activities in the community, and in cooperation with others to do my part in bringing in the kingdom of God in the world."

THE LOCAL NEWSPAPER

Visalia Delta: In spite of the fact that the metropolitan press now reaches into nearly every town and village in the country, the local newspaper in the United States is each year getting on a firmer foundation and becoming more and more useful to its home community.

It may be said that the day of the metropolitan newspaper is at hand. This is true, but it is equally true that the day of the local newspaper is here also.

The metropolitan daily with its world-wide news, its comic sheets, and its magazine supplements, while of course essential in our modern civilization, cannot take the place of the home newspaper. The very fact that the big daily must cover a broad field forbids its becoming local in any sense, and it is in the local field where the home newspaper dominates and where it finds its true usefulness.

For, after all, it is the home news which is most important to most of us. We have the greatest interest in the community in which we live, and in the people who are our neighbors and friends. And it is the local newspaper which records the happenings of the folks at home, and in addition fosters the civic pride and progressive spirit of the community.

It is the home newspaper which boosts the town, year in and year out, and which takes the lead in every enterprise which has for its purpose the upbuilding and prosperity of the community.

We frequently hear it said that the old time independent spirit of the newspaper is gone, that its editorial policy is now subservient to the business office. Yet this is not true. There is more unselfish idealism in the average local newspaper than in any other business enterprise. It frequently speaks out in a way which it believes will be for the good of the nation and of the community, regardless of what the consequences may be.

Unfortunately indeed is the community which neither appreciates nor supports its local newspapers. PEP FOR ALL THE WORLD

Punkte Journal: No one will dispute the fact that Garden Grove is "full of pep." Just now she is demonstrating it by supplying the world with its chili and pimiento peppers. Hereafter you must remember, when you are enjoying that delectable dish of chili beans, that the chili is a California product and that Orange county supplies the entire United States, except a little corner of a few acres down in Georgia. Just bear in mind also, that Garden Grove holds the distinction for the world's largest growing and shipping center of this vegetable. This is some statement, but with all the hot stuff the city has an even temperature.

Bulgarian, Spaniard, Russian, and a Frenchman.

From Bulgaria comes the playful practice of holding people in mountain caves for ransom. From Italy we remember all the grim jokes of Mussolini's black shirted followers. From Russia comes the pastime of cutting Jewish throats when time drags. From France is handed down the guillotine as a means to furnish amusement on an idle day. And from Spain we have the bull fight to pass Sunday afternoon in a quiet manner.

Art students are known to the world over to be poor, to live in garrets and to walk barefooted around the room in order to wash their stockings. These sculptors sometimes for breakfast take up a hat collection of a few coppers, buy bread and cheese and then divide it. So to see a new derby hat costing many francs reposing on the wall seemed out of place to them among art students.

Practice in Plastics

Therefore willing hands aided the little derby headed French devil to secure the derby to a cord and swing it high up to the ceiling. Small pieces of wet sculptor's clay will stick to things, even to derby hats if thrown expertly. Those that missed fell to the floor with a tiny sound and did not attract attention.

The sculptors kept throwing clay pellets at the derby. The painters worked on with backs to them, but the model, an Italian boy, was facing the end of the room. The boy's black eyes twinkled with interest. He smiled broadly. Finally he dropped his pose and clapped his hands in glee. He shouted with merriment to see the derby hat and the clay thrown at it.

Of course this broke the news and started the commotion. X was very angry. He raved in Swedish, German, French and English. He endeavored to enlist all the painters in an assault upon the sculptors. But they hastily established a barricade of tables, chairs and stools. Also five sculptors stood about a bin containing two thousand pounds of wet clay. Into this they thrust a hand now and may be from a business standpoint. This is more than the average business man will do or can do.

Of course the local newspaper is now on a firm business basis. This is why it is improving from year to year, why it is giving its readers a constantly better newspaper, and why it is increasing its influence for good in the community. But the local newspaper is still the principal booster for the community, and it does its boosting often without any hope of material reward.

Unfortunately indeed is the community which neither appreciates nor supports its local newspapers.

PEP FOR ALL THE WORLD

Punkte Journal: No one will dispute the fact that Garden Grove is "full of pep." Just now she is demonstrating it by supplying the world with its chili and pimiento peppers. Hereafter you must remember, when you are enjoying that delectable dish of chili beans, that the chili is a California product and that Orange county supplies the entire United States, except a little corner of a few acres down in Georgia. Just bear in mind also, that Garden Grove holds the distinction for the world's largest growing and shipping center of this vegetable. This is some statement, but with all the hot stuff the city has an even temperature.

then and moulded lumps to resemble baseballs.

So the painters did not rally round the flag for an assault, but chose rather to see the fun and enjoy a laugh. After a while things quieted down, but the remarks passed back and forth lasted all day. These were the choicest slang of the modern languages and served to keep all in high spirits. The derby since that time has never reposed on the end hook. In fact, it has never made another trip to the studio.

Tomb of Napoleon

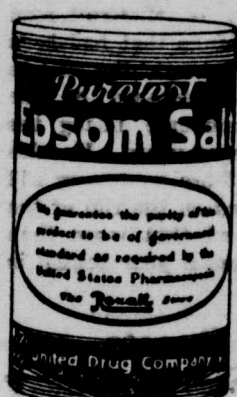

Leaving this part of Paris it is an easy walk to the tomb of Napoleon, where his body was transferred in 1840. He died on St. Helena in 1821. The tomb is a circular crypt beneath a dome started in 1675. The dome is 351 feet high and the interior is very beautiful. Back of this is a national museum containing Napoleon's death mask and many relics intimately associated with his life and time.

The Eiffel tower stands near the Seine and opposite the Trocadero. It stands 986 feet high and is the loftiest structure in the whole world. The tallest in New York is 750 feet; St. Paul's in London, 364; Washington Monument, 555, and the great pyramid is 450 feet. The ascent of the tower is made by a series of elevators and in summer there is always a great crowd of Americans waiting turn to go up and get the view of Paris which is very fine.

The busiest place in Paris is Rue Royale and Rue St. Honore. In a four-hour count recently over 85,000 vehicles passed this corner. That is quite different from the corners and water holes down 'round Indio in the early days. Some years before the highways were built, a half dozen burros and two or three men filling canteens was considered a big crowd. And Wilson would put in the Date Palm who was in town.

Woman's Club Notes

(Mrs. F. H. White, Press Chrm.)

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club

meeting on Oct. 28 opened with assembly singing of national songs.

Mrs. H. R. Allen, chairman of American Citizenship, had charge of the program. The cleverly arranged numbers sketched the whole fabric of American National life from Plymouth Rock to Ellis, and Angel islands.

Mrs. Stooky's address on "Citizenship Begins at Home," emphasized not only the privileges

but the duties of American citizens.

"My Native Land," sung by

Mrs. Allen, and "Yankee Doodledoodle" by Mrs. James Hawks, brought forth generous applause.

A group of stereopticon pictures of American early history was presented and very aptly described by Mrs. Allen. The program ended with concert singing of American folk songs.

The art section will meet Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 2:30 p. m. with

Mrs. Fred Griebenow. The hostess will review a book by Rodan.

Mrs. Homer Tuttle will sketch the life of Rembrandt and Mrs. James

Hawks will give her impressions of the Walker collection which she visited on her last trip north.

Notices

The Legislation, Current Affairs, and Regional Planning section will meet in the Caroline Osgood room Thursday, Nov. 5, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. George F. Roberts, chairman, presiding, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Lawless, vice chairman.

Reservations for the next club

luncheon, Armistice Day, must be made to Mrs. J. C. Dickson, Red

68, by 12 o'clock Monday, Nov. 9.

No reservations will be made after this time.

Mr. Buron Fitts, chief deputy district attorney of Los Angeles county, will be the speaker at the next public affairs meeting on the evening of Wednesday, Nov.

4, at 8 o'clock. The subject will be, "Crime and Citizenship." A large attendance is urged on account of the subject to be presented and the prominence of the speaker. Judge Bledsoe was to have been the speaker, at this meeting, but was unable to be present.

Woman's club notes for the

Sierra Madre News should reach the press chairman not later than

Wednesday evening preceding date of the issue in which the notice is to appear.

Three Big Offerings Next Week

The fight in which Ian Keith is

"mussed up" by Harold Goodwin

in "The Talker," the Sam E.

Rork production for First National which is to be shown at the Wistaria theater next Tuesday and Wednesday, is the first screen fight Keith ever had—but this was only his sixth picture. Several years ago, as Orlando in "As You Like It," on the stage, he and a college chum, an athlete playing the role of Charles the Wrestler, put on a wrestling match which was one of the sensations of the production.

The Volsted act is making accuracy in motion pictures more difficult than ever. Old sour-doughs insist that cases and kegs

of whiskey were among the first

supplies rushed to Dawson City,

Alaska, during the gold rush. In filming Rex Beach's "Winds of Chance," for First National release, Director Frank Lloyd had to have some of these, and he declares that nowadays they are as scarce as great auks and dodos.

As a matter of fact, he had to have some manufactured. You will see them at the Wistaria

Sunday and Monday when this picture is shown.

D. W. Griffith's latest production for United Artists' Corporation, "Sally of the Sawdust," which features Carol Dempster, W. C.

Fields and Alfred Lunt in the principal roles, is announced as the feature attraction for next

Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Wistaria theater. The interiors were made at the Paramount

Long Island studio, and included

among other imposing sets, a huge circus and carnival scene for which one whole stage was set aside. Exteriors were filmed in Greenwich, Conn., and along the Motor Parkway and other loca-

New Lyric Offers Big Fun Frolic

William Desmond, popular screen

star, in person, along with five acts of stellar vaudeville, will be the Hallowe'en frolic presentation

at the new Lyric theater at Monrovia Saturday night, starting at 9 o'clock.

Desmond, assisted by Mary Mc-

Ivor, Jerry Sheldon and Jack Cook,

two other screen celebrities, will present a one-act skit entitled

"Do Your Stuff," the show beginning at 9 o'clock.

Desmond, well known to every movie fan, has been in the picture

game for many years, long a matinee idol, and is still one of the leading and high salaried actors of the screen. Sheldon was in the original cast of "The Fool" which created such a sensation in New York city last season.

Mary McIvor will be remembered by many for her part in several of the leading pictures of the day, and Cook is known as one of the best character men around Hollywood.

Manager Struble has spared no expense in his effort to make the new Lyric's first annual Hallowe'en frolic one that will mean

plenty of fun and entertainment

for every one of the 1200 persons whom it is expected will crowd the big new theater to participate.

The balance of the bill will consist of Cook and Cloud in "Home

James;" Joe and Agnes Riley—a boy, a girl and a harp; Sweeney

and Stewart in "Two Minds with

But a Single Thought," and Gra-

zer-Lawler-Barto, the "dancing fiends." Also there will be the feature picture, "Pretty Ladies,"

with some added specialties on the organ by J. Wesley Lord, who has already made a name for himself in local picture going cir-

cations in various towns and villages

on Long Island.

NEWS

of interest to every man and woman in Sierra Madre

Next Monday, November 2nd

The most astonishing demonstration ever held will be given in our store. It will begin at 9 a. m. and continue throughout the day

It will introduce the most important contribution to music since the invention, 30 years ago, of the Victor Talking Machine

Don't miss it! It will be one of the most amazing demonstrations you have ever heard. It will astonish you. It will hold you spellbound. You will be as utterly surprised, . . . delighted . . . and grateful.

You will hear the most marvelous exposition of music in the world. The more critical your attitude toward music, the more astounded you will be.

A few people have heard this miraculous instrument, and to say they have been amazed is but a meager description. Fritz Kreisler, Ernestine Schumann-Heineck and John Philip Sousa have listened and marveled. All classes of music will be played and sung by Victor's own incomparable artists. No matter what you plan to do next Monday, do not miss this demonstration. You will never forget it.

Come to our store any time after nine o'clock during the day of November 2nd. In every city, in every state in the United States, this miraculous instrument will amaze and capture the people who hear it. Victor Day will be a nation-wide event. The new Victor instrument will make musical history.

I see the good man take his ease;
The ruddy lamp light streams to me
Hinting his hospitality.
Refreshed, I smile and simply pray;
"God bless my neighbor 'cross the way."

Each Sabbath day I love to go
And worship with the folk I know,
Yet crowds there be who do not come
To sing God's praise in my church home;
They have their own good place to pray—
"God bless my neighbor 'cross the way."

And if perchance his temple rise
A little nearer to the skies,
Loudly ring his great church bell,
Or richer be his organ swell,
If vaster crowd join him to pray,
"God bless my neighbor 'cross the way."

God bless him, for 'tis such as he Make cities what they ought to be,
Most fervently of Thee I ask
The "double portion" for his task,
Knowing full well he too will pray:
"God bless my neighbor 'cross the way."

OUR NEIGHBORS

TWO events of the week commend Dr. Freeman's poem to the thoughtful consideration of everybody in Sierra Madre. One is the address of President Coolidge before the international convention of the Y. M. C. A. in Washington. The other is the dedication of the beautiful church of St. Rita's parish.

President Coolidge said wisely: "I can conceive of no adequate remedy for the evils which beset society except through the influence of religion."

"One of the chief characteristics of Christianity is that it is a militant and crusading faith," the president continued. "Those who have become partakers of its inspirations and its consolations have been constantly speaking its truths among their associates. If that faith is to maintain its vitality that work must go on. It is not enough that there would be action in the pulpits—there must be reaction in the pews. It would not be sufficient to have exalted preaching by the clergy unless there is exalted living by the laity."

Of the making of many creeds and ceremonies there is no end. This is especially true in the southwest where new sects spring up like mushrooms. These do not usually build with new material but find their membership wherever they can coax it away from existing organizations. It is heartening, then, to find evidence of strength and prosperity in religious bodies with a background centuries old.

Some of us do not attend churches using as elaborate a ritual as that of the Roman Catholic church. But why criticize the devotions of others whose ceremonies we perhaps do not even understand! If they find comfort and strength and inspiration there, why not remember rather the things held in common, the "church's one foundation," the truth of the militant faith to which President Coolidge refers.

MORE ABOUT TAXES AND TAX COLLECTION

LAST week's "Observations" on the ridiculousness of current tax systems pointed out just a few of the numerous ways taxes are collected, and showed the impossibility of telling just what government costs in this country. The matter of injustice in taxation was touched only by implication.

Unequal incidence of tax burdens occurs almost as frequently as variations in method. For instance, under the law a street railway company must maintain the paving between its rails and for a certain distance on either side. The rest of the paving is maintained by general taxation.

Street railway companies have no revenue except what they collect from their patrons. Out of this revenue they pay their taxes, and meet that paving expense. In other words, street car patrons maintain the street railway's portion of the paving. The rest of the paving is maintained by the general public—including the street car patrons who have already paid for a substantial portion of the paving maintenance.

In other words, here is a case of double taxation, and another instance where public utility is made a tax collection agency. Isn't it another argument for a simpler system of taxation?

SIERRA MADRE

MOTHER mountains! billowing far to the snow-lands,
Robed in aerial amethyst, silver and blue,
Why do ye look so proudly down on the lowlands?
What have their gardens and groves to do with you?

Theirs is the languorous charm of the orange and myrtle,
Theirs are the fruitage and fragrance of Eden of old,— Broad-boughed oaks in the meadows fair and fertile,
Dark-leaved orchards gleaming with globes of gold.

You, in your solitude standing, lofty and lonely,
Bear neither garden nor grove on your barren breasts;
Rough is the rock-loving growth of your canyons,
and only
Storm-battered pines and fir-trees cling to your crests.

Why are ye throned so high and arrayed in splendor
Richer than all the fields at your feet can claim?
What is your right, ye rugged peaks, to the tender
Queenly promise and pride of the mother-name?

Answered the mountains, dim in the distance
dreaming:
"Ours are the forests that treasure the riches of rain;
Ours are the secret springs and the rivulets streaming Softly down through the manifold bloom of the plain.

"Vain were the toiling of men in the dust of the dry land,
Vain were the plowing and planting in waterless fields,
Save for the life-giving currents we send from the skyland,
Save for the fruit our embrace with the storm-cloud yields."

O mother mountains, Madre Sierra, I love you!
Rightly you reign o'er the vale that your bounty fills,— Kissed by the sun, or with big, bright stars above you,—
I murmur your holy name and lift up mine eyes to the hills.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Several years have passed since Dr. Henry Van Dyke spent a winter in Pasadena. He often visited Sierra Madre and the nearby mountains. A little later the foregoing poem appeared in the Century magazine. Many poets have tried to put into metre the inspiration of our mountain and valley region. But so far none has succeeded quite so well as Doctor Van Dyke, whose beautiful poem will by this time be new to a multitude of people.

In business today it is always your move. You have to make men know your firm; make them familiar with everything you sell; make them believe in you and then keep them believing. — Salesmanship in Print.

IF I SHOULD DIE

If I should die tonight
And you should come to my cold corpse and say,
Weeping and heartsick o'er my lifeless clay—
If I should die tonight
And you should come in deepest grief and woe—
And say, "Here's that ten dollars that I owe,"
I might arise in my large white cravat
And say, "What's that?"

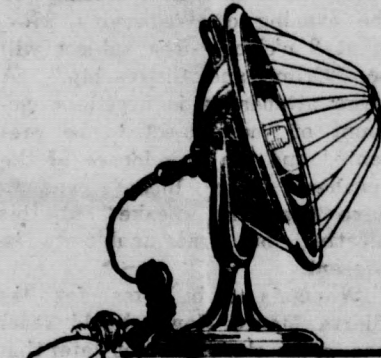

If I should die tonight
And you should come to my cold corpse and kneel, Clasping my bier to show the grief you feel;
I say, if I should die tonight,
And you should come to me, and then and there
Just even hint 'bout payin' me that ten,
I might arise the while,
But I'd drop dead again.

—Ben King.

NOW IS THE TIME
Claremont Courier: And now comes the season when candidates throw their hats in the ring. It brings a lump to the throat of all good citizens—this annual answer to the call of duty by men who feel that they have no right longer to refuse to listen to the urging of these men and women of California who have worked for many years with them. With the blush of modesty upon their youthful, guileless faces, these flowers who have been wasting their sweetness on the desert air reluctantly but nobly come forward offering themselves for transplanting to the State Capitol House. They have been "importuned from all sections of the state," they have been "sought out continually by friends who insisted upon their entering the race." At last, roused by their sense of the necessity of remedying the abuses and follies of the existing regime, which they cannot but view with the greatest alarm, they announce that they are "in the fight and in the fight to stay."

of the committees for the class were made at the first meeting of the year. The second year students have decided to have blue and grey sweaters as their class insignia, at the Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis, Ore.,
where Miss Jameson is a student.

EXHIBIT OF MINIATURES COMMENDED

Antony Anderson, artistic of the Times, makes the following well merited reference to the works of Miss Ella Shepard Bush,
mentioned recently in the News:

Friday Morning club's October show, the first of the season, is a remarkably varied one, comprising twenty paintings in oil and eight-teen miniatures by Ella Shepard Bush, as well as a little gathering of small sculptures, intimate and charming.

Nine of the paintings were lent
by the Stendahl gallery, one by the Biltmore salon, and the other ten were selected by the art committee from the studios of the different painters represented.

Miss Bush's showing is the first of the one-man series to be held through the year at the Friday Morning club by members of the California Society of Miniature Painters.

Miss Bush is a colorist of exquisite delicacy and an impeccable draughtsman. Moreover she brings imagination to her work in miniature. She gives us not merely portraits but beautiful little pictures on ivory. And she has a gift at titling her pictures. These titles help to liberate the imagination of the beholder, without in the least affecting the aesthetic intent of the charming pictures themselves. "A Tocatta of Ga-luppis," "Balaustion," "Michel in Paracelsus," "The High Window,"
"Aladdin," "A Lady of Cranford,"
"A Princess in a Fairy Tale,"
"Porcelain, Lacquer and Patina."
The last named, reproduced in The Times a week ago, belongs to the Fleming collection.

Miss Bush is a member of the Art Students' League of New York, the Pennsylvania Society of Miniature Painters, the California
Art club, and the Arts and Crafts society.
